

Information for Home School Families

Eastfield College's Early College Programs office would love to provide dual credit opportunities to your home school student.

In order to serve a home school family, in addition to completing the Admissions Application for High School Students via https://www1.dcccd.edu/stuapp/newuser_hs.cfm, submitting a completed Dual Credit Enrollment Packet, and meeting all course pre-requisites, home school families must have a signed Dual Credit Contract on file before registration can occur.

During the Spring Semester, an online Homeschool Contract Survey will become available. This survey will be used to draft your contract and must include all of the courses that your student may take for the entire academic year. Students can select from Core, foreign language, or CTE courses.

Please note: only courses listed on the contract can be offered for dual credit. Any additional courses will be offered concurrently – the family is responsible for covering the cost of these courses.
